ORIGINAL PUNAHOU SCHOOL TESTIMONY

387 American S.J. Mission Oahu 23 March

Section 2 Punahou Oahu Wm. H. Rice ag present

Mr. Lee's Notes

John li sworn for Claimant. I am well acquainted with "Punahou" and its Boundaries. It consists of two parts, one inland and the other a sea land. It is bounded Mauka by the large land called "Manoa", Waialae by Mauna Pohaku, Makai by Kula land of Allen Kapeau, my self and others. I think it extends nearly down to the Road leading form Honolulu past Allens place Honolulu side by the Road leading from the old Allen place to Manoa and by my land.

The Makai part of Punahou is bounded Mauka by "Kewalo" and "Kaula", Waititi side by "Kalia", seaward it extends out to where the surf breaks. Honolulu side by "Keonolulu".

This land was given to Mr. Bingham for the Sandwich Island Mission by Gov. Boki in 1829. It was given upon the same terms as all their other lands were given to them, and the Grant was confirmed, so far as silence proved it, for in truth she had no right to set aside this grant.

From that time to this the S.J. Mission have been the only Possessors and Konohikis of the land. I was a witness to the Gift, the title of the Mission is perfectly clear.

The name of the Makai part is Kukuaaeo. There are several tenants on the land of Punahou whose rights should be respected. L Kaauloai sworn. I know this land, I heard Paohi say to Hooapili Kane concerning the Gift of this land to S.J. Mission that he had given it to W. Bingham.

Boki's wife made some objections to giving it to Mr. Bingham claiming it as hers as received from her father Hoapili Kane, but Hoapili Kane confirmed the Gift, and it was adjudged to be right and proper.

From what I heard at the time of the Boundaries, I should think Mr. Metcalf Survey correct.

Referred in Walker becoming no. 146

George (Keoki) sworn, deposed that he had no interest in the claim, Five or six years ago Nr. Walker and I exchanged places. He has lived in the place which I let him have ever since no other person has any rights there. I have not heard that any other person pretends to advance any claim. The place what I gave to him adjoins Thompson's below and is enclosed with a fence. There are no natives that have any right to the place. A house is standing towards the River was taken up and removed to this place, shortly after I let him have the place. At the time the new roads were laid out, this place belonged to the old road and when the fences were built, was left open. I applied to the Governor for it and he gave it to me.

This claim is transferred to Wm Walker and becomes No. 146 Pages in page 122.

Claimed 104 to 106 Wm Walker Oct 7

No. 3

John Neddles sworn deposed I know a spot of land W. Walker had formerly this side of W. Smiths school house, between there and Mr. Booth's. I do not know how he became possessed of it. I can say how long he held it, it was about 12 to 13 years ago. Windows and doors were finished in the house which was completed by the claimant, and Maoahau took possession of it to sell spirits, by a man named Tom, this was done when Claimant was gone to China. When he returned he saw this man in the house. I wanted it to be opened and he would not allow any one to enter. There were four gate posts and two well posts already erected. Maoahau is dead. Note. The bulk of the testimony is Recorded in Hawaiian only.

Claim 81 Joseph Booth Sept. 8

Doctor Rooke sworn deposed, the land was enclosed with a fence when I measured it in February 1845. On the 5 Jan. 1844 I received a letter from Mr. Byrne requesting me to sell this enclosure. Having received some offers first, I wrote to Byrne for a bill of sale of the land. On the 22nd of April 1844 he wrote me to this effect. Dated 22 April 1844, I sent a black bill of sale to fill up with the purchasers name and sum. In Feb 9 following Mr. Booth concluded to purchase it for $250. I told him before concluding it would be proper to wait on the Governor, to offer him the land so that his permission to purchase it senguire if the sale would be ?. I went down to the Gov with Mr. Booth. I told him Byrne had commissioned me to sell his place, and Booth wished to purchase it. I asked him if I should be right in selling it, or Byrnes, I had nothing to do with it. The Governor told me then how Byrne became possession of it. I did not know before. He said it was given to Byrne by order of Kinau. I think he said he measured it out himself, and Kinau commissioned him to mark out the place for his services to Rihoriho. He observed what Kinau had done would be valid. I asked if it would be right to sell it to Mr Booth. I enquired particularly that there might be no future difficulty. He said it was good. Some other conversation took place on going out of the Room, He said there could now be no difficulty hereafter. The last words Booth added were. I am looking out for a Keiki. After leaving the fort I recommended Mr. Booth to take the deed to Mr. Ricord or Mr Judd. I am not sure which, in order that no difficulty might ensue. Sometime after I heard Mr. Booth's title to the land was disputed. I had the money in my hands which Mr. Booth paid me. I notified Byrne that his Title was disputed. I then received the letter from Byrne about his services rendered and the validity of the title. I know Byrne rendered the servicers he states to the King. I am also sure Byrne himself built a house on the land and dug a well there.

Kekuanaoa sworn deposed. I gave my approbation to Booth buying the place. He told me he was buying it for his Children. The King and Kinau gave it to Byrne in consequence of Byrne leaching Rihoriho.

Claim 90 and 91 Kepane Montgomery Sept 16

Umiokalani sworn deposed. I am acquainted with the premises of Claimant who derives his right from his father to whom the place was given by her father Winship, who received it from Karaimoku a the time of Kamehamehas return to Hawaii, and houses were built on it by Kuihelani at the order of Karaimoku. Mr Winship lived there till he left the Islands, and when he left, willed the place to his daughter, and appointed Manina and Holmes guardians. It was enclosed with a stick fence by Mr. Winship, I afterwards Manini built a stone fence round back of it. Claimant has not now possession of all she formerly did. Previous to 1823 Manini took possession of the yard while claimant was at school at Mr Bingham's. When Manini took possession he wen occasionally. I lived in a house which Mr. Winship built for the houses built by Kuihelani were destroyed. Manini had a separate place beside the yard in which he lived himself. He built a bullock fence outside Winship made a fishpond on the seaside of the yard. The walls of the pond were afterwards taken away, but I do not know who took them, perhaps Manini.

Kahoani sworn deposed. I was acquainted with Father of claimant, Winship. He had a building lot in this village adjoining Mr Manini's. It was given him by Karaimoku. He lived there a long time and his child was born there, and she lived there till she was grown up. The place was enclosed with a stick fence. When Winship died the place fell to Manini as guardian of claimant. Manini enclosed it with a stone fence. It appears Manini took the yard for his own use, but I do not know. He built his or more houses in one part of the yard. The house built by Winship is still standing in the part now occupied by Manini's heirs. The place now occupied by Claimant was not the spot formerly surrounded with a fence, but is on a spot occupied by Winshp's servants.

David Lyons sworn deposed. I knew Mr. Winship. I know Karaimoku told Kuihelani to give Winship all that strip between Manini's and Mr. Ladds. Capt. Winship was about one year there. When he went away he left Manini as Guardian to his daughter. Winship was here long before the King died, about 1817. He had been here several times before that, and went voyages. I do not know what he did about the land when he went away. I know Winship made a fishpond. He had two Lands Pouala, Pearl river, and Kakohine here.

John White sworn deposed. I knew Mr. Winship had the place, and am almost sure it joined Maninis. I think he got it from Pet. As far as I recollect he occupied the place off and on 8 or 9 years. As far as I understood when he left, he left the place to his daughter, and Manini was the Guardian. Capt. Winship made the pond as far as I know. I have heard he had lands in other places, but do now particularly know. Mr. Young proceeded to the house of Kamakakoa and took testimony.

Claim 91

Umiokalani sworn deposed when Winship was here he had a land at Ewa, named Poula. Karaimoku gave to him, that, and another at the back of Honolulu named Piwae was given him by Karaimoku. Those 2 lands belonged to him. His brother had another by the name of Kaluohine in Honolulu where he made a Fish Pond.

Claim 152 to 157 Wm Sumner Nov 4

Peter Richmond sworn, deposed I arrived at these Islands about 22 years ago. I came from Taunton Maplton U.S. I have been at Honolulu about 18 years at work as a carpenter. I have known Wm. Sumner ever since I have been here. In old times there used to be a high stick fence running along the ground where Kekauionohi's stone house is built, and commenced at Doctor Judd's inland fence and running inland of the stone House, near the line of the street. The fence ran up beyond the well which is on the premises of Kekauonohi, and comprised the houses about as far up as where the native straw house stands. I do not know how far the back fence extended. I can not say whether there was any Clop Fence or not. Some of Mr. Sumner's people lived in the large native houses there. I do not recollect when the lane was opened, there used to be a pa? there, I cannot say whether the straw house was built by Mr Sumner. The place where the young Chiefs' School is was or by Kainaina. About 1837 or 8 the main street was opened which intersects at right angles the street where Pece. Miller resides, and the street which passes in front of the Palace. About the time these the street was opened Mr Sumner built a mud wall from the street above described running easterly. The same wall stands there at the present time, which is the Mauka wall. At the time of the building of the wall the straw house was down. I believe the path has been a thoroughfare during 10 years past. I cannot say whether it was ever laid and for a street or road, or by common consent that people passed over it. I knew Mr Sumner a short time after my arrival here, and have always understood that that and where he lived belonged to him, not only that, but all that was included where the stick fence ran. Mr. Palmer was one who told me so. I have heard that Mr. Pitt applied to Mr. Sumner for permission to make a pathway which now leads up to the Young Chiefs place. I have heard people say so, among the Natives. I cannot say who, but I have heard often of it. I have heard Capt. Sumners six or eight years past often claim the ground.

(Note) Mr Lea states the present to be a verbal grant, depending on the occupancy.

(deposition continued). I have lived the first two years after my arrival here at the Fort, and afterwards with Jack Gowne. I have no connection with the Parties, I have never lived with Captain Sumner. I could not point out to the Surveyor where the fence ran within twenty or thirty feet, but I am sure it ran as far as the Stone House. I could not say how deep the land was from east to west, but it was wider than Mr. Sumner's present Premises. I do not know of any Natives living on the ground at that time. I do not know who built the stick fence. Kaniu Kaniue commenced building the Stone House upon the ground about three years ago. I do not know if Mr. Sumner opposed any objections to the building of it. I never heard any thing of it. I do not know whether Mr. Sumner ever occupied the land since he built the mauka wall. I do not know whether he ever paid any taxes on it. I do not know who planted the sugar cane on the land.

Kauwila, sworn, deposed. I have been Wife of Mr. Sumner until about the time of the arrival of letters (about 1820). I do not know at what time Mr. Sumner took possession of his present premises, it was long before Karaimoku built his great yard. The place of Mr. Sumner was not given him by any person, it was an unoccupied place, and he went of his own accord and built there with the knowledge of the chiefs. He built a fence around his premises, it commenced near Doctor Judd's Premises and ran up along the street. When Karaimoku was sick he asked of Mr. Sumner a pathway for him to go out through his yard and Mr. Sumner gave his consent to have the two parts separated by the path. At that period we were living on the mauka side of the pathway. I had another husband at that time, and we were all living there together, our two families. Mr. Sumner built the house where we with my husband lived. My husband with Mr. Sumner dug the well. I left the place at the time Lot was born in 1831 or 2. At that time Keliiaunohi sent us on. The wall was built before I left. I do not know on what grounds Keliiaunohi sent me away. I considered him as my chief, and was the servant of his chamberlain. There was no place to go after I left. The house was taken down, and Mr. Sumner took possession of the materials I collected, timbers, boards and ashes. In an when I came back I found them in Mr. Sumners premises. I was at Maui when Nahienaina died (1836) and came back I found them in Mr. Sumners yard. There was a wall at that time. I moved the materials and contents of the house through my women. Puhie was the man who followed? At my orders. Mr. Sumner was away at the time. The ? of Kekauonohi immediately occupied the land at the removal of the house. The name of the occupant was P?. Mr Sumner built the house and the fence for me.

Uilani, sworn, deposed, I am living in the house of ? I have been acquainted with Mr. Sumner from my Childhood. When I first knew him he was living down here in the village. At that time the place where he is now living was entirely vacant. He went perhaps of his own accord and selected the place. Then he went there to live, he fenced in his premises with sticks. The boundaries on the mountain side were just back of a well. The boundary on the western side, was about where the road now runs. The sea boundary was somewhere within Dr. Judd's yard, but was gradually removed at the request of Kinau until it reached the place where it now is. On the eastern side it extended into what was subsequently the yard of Karaimoku, he requested permission to extend his premises into Mr. Sumner's Yard and obtained it. The space thus granted was considerable. There was no interior division of the land at that time. There was no fence at the time Karaimoku was living. I think that lane has been existing ten years. I think Mr. Sumner has not occupied any grounds mauka of that lane since the wall was built. I do not know the reason for Mr. Sumner giving up that place. After he built that wall, his own people no longer lived on the other side, but went and lived in his own enclosure. I do not know any thing relating to his tearing down the house. I knew of Kauwila living there. I was absent when she left the premises, and do not know precisely when it was. When Nahienaina died, Kauwila had left the Premises, which was in 1836. I remember the house in which Kauwila lived, Mr. Sumner built the house. I heard Mr. Sumner say that Karaimoku asked him for a pathway at the time Lord Byron was here.

Same claim Nov. 4

Robert Boyd, sworn, deposed. I have lived on the Islands 24 years. I am an Englishman by birth. I knew Mr. Sumners about 3 weeks after my arrival, living where he now does since that time. The Premises are bounded on the South East by the Palace Yard, on North East by a narrow lane, on North West by a broad Street, on South West by the premises of Dr. Judd. Those were not the former boundary. There were houses on the lot when I went to live with him in 1822. There is no house now standing that was then. I was absent when the house in which he now lives was built. It was built previous to 1837. There was a thatch house in which he then lived, near the site of his present house, when I first knew him. There was a plastered mud house on the right hand side of the entrance to his then residence, which he used as a store house. That entrance was where his gate now is. There was a stick fence on the street side, as early as 1822. That fence commenced at the premises of Dr. Judd, and ran inland about North East along the street, and ended a little farther than the alley about 40 or 50 feet. On the North east side there was no fence. There was a stick fence on Dr. Judd's side, S.W. There was a fence on the Palace Side, S.E. Mr. Sumner had no building beyond the lane, except the well that I know of. The land on the N.E. side beyond the alley, where the Well is, was open to any one to build upon it at that time. Mr. Sumner could not have opposed any one at that time building on that vacant space to the N.E. if the Chief had given his consent to any one build there, and even Mr. Sumner would have required the aid of a Chief to sustain him in building there. The present lane was then a pathway. Before 1837 when I went out there existed the present Mud Wall which bounds on N. The premises now in Mr. Sumner's occupation. I do not know why Mr. Sumner built the wall, except to enclose his natural boundaries. It would be possible in some cases, in enclosing a piece of land, that I might have some of it out, but it would not be natural. About the Well there was a small thatch house in land of it, and a man living in it named Powell. I asked him where he lived he said with Capt. Sumner or by him, I do not remember which. I did not know Kauwila. There was no other house on that side, and no one living there that I know of.

In 1822 the Lohole block was an entire plain, including the palace. Dr. Judd's, Mr. Sumner's present residence and the land in dispute. In 1837 there were several persons living on the block in different parts, the Governor Kinau, Mr. Sumner and some natives were living in different parts of the same block. I should think these might be about 15 acres on it. I cannot say that in 1822 any one could take possession of land as they chose, but he must have the sanction of a Chief. As a foreigner he would make friends with some Chief, and ask him to build a house for him, and give him so much money. The Chief might ask the person so requesting where he would have it, by Your pointing out the place, he knows whether he can build there better than the person who asks for it. At that early day it was the usage to enclose as much of the land as the Applicant saw fit and could pay for, the more he could pay for the better the Chief would be pleased. There were no Purchasers of that time in foreign understanding. The money was given to enable the Chief to build the house for the applicant. In fact Boki was very angry with me on having understood that I drew up a paper for selling land by Mr. Kilday to some one else. Mr. Boyd says I was understood by me from Boki, that when he sold land, he only sold the privilege of the land and improvements. I think natives did not ever practice at that day, selling the right of occupation, and the improvements. I do not think until the passage of the present laws in creating this Board, the Natives ever enjoyed that right at all.

An enclosure at that day, constituted a circumscribing fence or wall. In 1837 I took notice that every one was very careful to get all they could, because there were instances of several places being sold on valuation in that day—(not the land, but the privileges of the site and improvements). I myself sold some at that time with the consent of the King. (Not the land but the privileges of the site and improvements). People began long before that time to enclose their fences, owing to the enhanced value of land. I do not know whether Mr. Sumner gave any thing for the land. He used to negotiate for the Chiefs, and I suppose that circumstance formed the basis of his possession of the land. I never heard that Mr. Sumner was objected to any improvements that have been made by others on the land inland of the present wall, except very recently that I heard from Mr. Sumner himself.

Mr. Boyd, being asked to give his candid opinion in view of what he knew of the ancient usages of 1822 to 1837, and which existed until new provisions were made by the new laws in 1846; also in view of the situation and facts of the entire premises claimed by Mr. Sumner, replied as follows. I consider the land extending from the lane on the North east, to Mr. Judd's premises, on the South West, and from the street on the North West to the Palace grounds on the South East which Mr. Sumner enclosed by a wall, to be all he claimed, he can he enclosed it. I would suppose that the Walls indicate as much, as that he did not claim any more. I do not know whether Mr. Sumner has claimed any Proprietorship or exerted any rights since 1837 beyond those boundaries.

John li, sworn deposed. I was acquainted with the premises of Mr. Sumner previous to 1820. I cannot positively testify, but I think he took possession of the place in 1816 or 1817, the time of the Russians. I was at the time at Hawaii myself. About 1823 Kalaimoku built a large fence alongside of it. The fence extended clear from Chapel St. toward the mountain to Back Street, in which General Miller and Judge Andrews live. I know about 1825, but I am not certain of the precise date, a fence ran from Dr. Judds premises to the path which led into Kalaimoku's yard. I know also there was another fence extended along the same line till it passed the house occupied by Kauwila and her Husband Hookio, nearly to Back Street, then turning at right angles and running to the fence of Kalaimoku before mentioned, including the ground now occupied by Gen. Miller and Judge Andrews. It is not clear to me there was a fence on the mountain side, diverging from the stick fence already described but in my opinion the yard extended clear up to Back Street including houses occupied by the people of Keoua.

I know also that the lane upon which Mr. Sumner's premises now abut was then a travelled footpath, and was fenced in on both sides (a short stick fence), the same width as it is at present or thereabouts. I know nothing who built the fences around this yard, but I know Mr. Sumner was living where he is now living.

Mrs. Grimes sworn deposed. [Dec. 1] The Yard was completely surrounded by a stick fence. The fence on the N.E. side was a little inland from the house of Kauwila. I do not know anything about Keoua mentioned by Mr. li. There was a well, and I do not remember more than one house on that spot, and that was occupied by Kauwila. There was a small path between that and the house occupied by Mr. Sumner. Kauwila's entrance to her yard was from the street on the N.W. side. Some time after Mr. Sumner wne there, there were some houses, and one was occupied by a Foreigner. When Kauwila was sent away I was not here. At the time of Kalaimoku I was here, and I went away subsequently about the early part of 1826.

David Lyons, sworn, deposed. I have been 45 years. I have known Mr. Sumner 24 years, he lived where he now does. The place was a plain, and everyone was allowed to build where they chose in those days. He enclosed that place all round with a stick fence. It ran almost down to Dr. Judds, it was much where it is now on the roadside, and was close to the well, near where the fence of the road now is, which passes Gen. Millers and Mr. Andrews. Kauwila's husband planted a garden in the yard. There was no path at that time where the lane now is. There was only one house at that time in the yard, and Hokio and his wife lived there. Capt. Sumner gave Hokio property to built it with. Hokio belonged to Kinau. I do now know how long Kauwila lived in the house, nor why she left. I do not know when Kalaimoku built his fence, nor where it ran, he built it a great way out. I do not know when Mr. Sumner built his mud Wall, but I believe it was when they were making the great road. The little fence was made when Kalaimoku was taken bad with the dropsy, when Lord Byron was here. Mr. Sumner has had nothing to do with the Land on the mountain side of the path, since it was made. There have been a great many people living on that land since Kalaimoku pulled down his large fence. It was at the request of Lord Byron that Mr. Sumner made the pathway which now exists. Mr. Sumner told me all that ground belonged to him, because any one could take at that time all they could enclose.

Kilua sworn, deposed. I am the brother of Kauwila. I now live at Puuloa. I first knew Mr. Sumner in the time of Rihoriho, he then lived where he now does. I do not know who gave him the place, he enclosed with a fence. The boundary fence on the S.W. was in Dr. Judds yard. On the road side it was in what is now the Road. The fence on the N.E. was at some distance toward the sea from the streed passing by Gen. Millers. The path where the lane now is was not then existing. It was begun in the sickness of Kalaimoku that his Servants bringing the food might have easy access. At that time, my Sister, her husband, myself and Mother lived together in that Yard. That house stood near to the path made by Kalaimoku, there was no other fence near, our Well was in front of our house, we dug it ourselves, but had aid from Mr. Sumners men, the house was Mr. Sumners. We with the help of him men took it down, and built it again, the thatch afterwards failed, and we ourselves rethatched it. My Sister left the place after the death of Boki, before the death of Nahinaina. I went in 1826 to Puuloa. I do not know the reason for my Sisters leaving. We went to live in Mr. Sumners yard, and when we were living there the garden produce was not safe for we stole it, and on that ground Mr. Sumner said to my sister, I will furnish you with sticks, and you put up a fence on the mountain side. The fence was on the mountain side of the present lane, and was built some time before the death of Kalaimoku. The rights of Mr. Sumner in that Yard after the fence was built, consisted in his laving placed his former Wife there. His men worked with us afterwards in preparing the ground for irrigation. I do not know who occupied the yard after my Sister left. I have heard nothing said of Mr. Sumners rights since Nahinaina's death, but I have heard talk of the manner of our former living in it. I do not know who has had the management of the Yard since Nahinaina's death. My Sister now lives in Puuloa. We did not consider ourselves as owning the Yard, but as tenants of Mr. Sumner.

I have no knowledge of Kekauonohi's living in the same Yard with my Sister. When Kauwila married her new husband I was at Puuloa, and did not hear of it. I never heard anything about her being turned away from the place, till after the death of Maihele (-44 or 45) when She requested me to take her in. After the death of Kinau (Father of Kekauonohi()) we considered ourselves the people of Kekauonohi.

Kapanui, sworn, deposed. I am Uncle to Mr. Sumner's Wife. I am living on Mr. Sumner's land at Kapola?. I know Mr. Sumner while Kamehameha 1 was alive, he was then living in the same yard where he now lives, at that time the place was a common and he took up, and was the only person living on it, and he surrounded it entirely with a fence, which still stands in what is now Dr. Judds yard. On N.W. side is now the road. On the mountain side It ran along the end of the houses in Mr. Andrews yard. ? Servants of Mr. Sumner all lived in that Yard, and no others. I do not know who lived outside of Mr. Judds on the N.E. There was formerly no lane where the present path is, but when Kalaimoku was sick, it was made for his accomodation. The crop fence was made while Kalaimoku was living, it was a stick fence.

Pehu, sworn, deposed. I was an officer of Kamehameha's previous to 1812. Subsequently I travelled backwards and forwards, communicating the orders, and attending to his business. The house in which I lived was where Mr. Sumner's house now is. It was at that time a prohibited place. I continued to live there until the death of Kamehameha (June 1819) when I went to Hawaii. I did not live there after that, my Wife lived there afterwards. There were four houses there (a store house and four houses), there were many of us living there. Keakuaroa was the name of my Wife, she continued to live there till Kalaimoku went to Hawaii. She lived in a house which stood where the new stone house now is, until 1827. Kauina lived in the same house with my wife. That house in which they lived was back of the house in which Kauwila lived. Kauwila's house was between Mr. Sumner's house and the new Stone house. The time of Rihoriho, when Mr. Sumner came to live there Keakuaroa was living there. The fence on the road, and that on the sea side might have been a little distance from where they now are. On the mountain side the fence was near where the lane now runs. At that time Kauwila lived in the same Yard with Mr. Sumner, in the house in front of the new Stone house. There was a little path when Kalaimoku was living, the fences were made when the new roads were made. Mr. Sumner saw the place was vacant, and seeing the tabu was taken off when Kamehameha died, he went and lived there. Keakuaroa was still living there in front of the present Stone house. When Kalaimoku went to Hawaii, Keakuaroa went with him for she was one of his descendants. The house in which she lived was built by Kauina. Previous to 1812 while Kamehameha was living, the store houses previously referred to were standing, but when he went to Hawaii they were neglected. I built those houses myself, excepting one which Kauina built. Mr. Sumner was never told by any one to go off the land when he took possession of it. When Hookio died, Mr. Sumner's former Wife went away. Hookio died before Kalaimoku. (Note directed by the President). Witness is very old, and his testimony is not to be relied on except in Relation to very early dates.

Mr. Kaauiwai, sworn, deposed. I was acquainted with Mr. Sumner's place first about the close of the Kauawas (1824). The reason I know about it is because I used to go there with Hookio to drink rum. Hookio and his wife lived in a house standing endways to the sea. I think that house stood a little in front of the present new Stone house. I knew that Hookio was Kalaimoku's man (from the time of the Russians down), though formerly perhaps he was Kamehameha's man. I do not know who owned the house they lived in. I supposed at the time it was Hookio's. I cannot describe the fence at that time but at the time of Lord Byron I know more (in 1824). At that time they ran from seaside and along the road as has been testified before the commission. Respecting the fence on the N.E. side I cannot speak definitely. I know there was a little stick fence running along S.W. of the little path which divided the yard of Mr. Sumner from the Yard of Kauwila. There were a number of people living in the Yard at that period. I had a Brother-in-law living there, they belonged to Boki. Kukahiko was the name of my Brother-in-law. I do not know how long they lived in the Yard because I did not constantly reside there. I knew nothing more about it till 1836; at which time I visited the Island, and lived myself in Kalaimoku's Yard, who at that time was not himself there. The people of Kekauonohi were then living there, a great many lived there then. I then understood that all that place belonged to Kekauonohi, and the house belonging to Mr. Andrews had been previously built. I never heard till now that Mr. Sumner had any claims there. I heard that Kalaimoku requested Mr. Sumner to make the pathway, and that Mr. Sumner gave his consent. When we used to go to drink rum, Kalaimoku was accustomed to say Look out, and do not injure the yard of the Foreigner for he was afraid the garden would be injured, which was inside of the little fence seaside of the path. The exact bounding I cannot tell.

Kekuanaoa, sworn deposed. The several places mentioned in the Statement of Claimant were embraced in one yard. That part which is now occupied by Kekuaroa was formerly occupied by Hookio. The large Yard was divided by some small fences, Cooke's place was included in the great yard of Kalaimoku, but Hookio's was outside abreast of it. Hookio's place was bounded on the seaside by what is now the lane. I speak of the time when I returned from England. Hookio belonged to Kamehameha and subsequently to Kekauiole, but lived with Kalaimoku. I never heard that Mr. Sumner had any right in that Yard, although I was a Stranger, just returned from England (1825). When I saw Kauwila and Hookio they were living there. I never heard that Hookio lived there as a subordinate to his Wife, but as a servant of Kalaiunohu. While I was living in Kalaimoku's house, having charge of the Coffins of the King, I heard Kalaimoku say to Hookio, Make an opening in our fence. The place he pointed out was between Mr. Sumner's Yard and Hookio's, and the path was the boundary between the two. It was done in order to have a communication between Kalaimoku and Kinopu, who lived where Mr. Ricker now does. At that time he gave charge to his Sister Uahaine Pio to place her servants together with some of his own in that Yard with Hookio. According to my observation, therefore, that Yard was Kalaimoku's. I did not think it was Mr. Sumner's. The form of the expression was often our fence, and place the servants and our (hana) furniture in our (hana) Yards. The place now occupied by Mr. Andrews was most of it a common. I think Hookio's Yard did not extend so far back, as Mr. Andrew's. The fence along there in old times ran crooked, the principal part of the land was a common. There was a house standing near there, and afterwards the Yard was built. I know very well the place which Mr. Sumner now occupies, and afterwards Kinau and I lived near him. The Yard occupied by Kaeo was at that time Nahine Pio's, and is now Kekauonohi's, also the Yard occupied by Kalama was one Yard. All these were one, and at that time were Nahine Pio's under Kalaimoku. I was at Hawaii when the Russian were here the second time. I heard of their building a blockhouse from Kamehameha. When I came from Hawaii about 1821 Mr. Sumner was living there. Hookio was living there, but I am not certain. Mr. Sumner had a yard then, I think is extended into the Yard occupied after by us. He had a stick fence all round his Yard at that time, and the boundary was where the little path now is. I do not recollect Mr. Sumner going to Pearl River to get the sticks for the fence, I recollect Kalaimoku going in a vessel. Kauwila was living in the house Hookio occupied. I know nothing about who built it, it was built before I returned from England. I know of Hookio living there, and of Wahine Pio taking possession. I do not know how long he lived in it. I never heard to Kalaimoku applying to Mr. Sumner to make the pathway. I do not recollect Mr. Sumner calling on Kinau to complain of his house being pulled down, perhaps he himself might have come. I remember Kinau asking Mr. Sumner to draw in his fence which was in Dr. Judd's yard. The Yard in which Mr. Sumner and Hookio lived before the path was was one Yard, excepting a little stick fence running across, and Mr. Sumner's was on one side of it, and Hookio's on the other. When I came back from England, Mr. Sumner's fence by the side of the road was a high one and Hookio's was a low one. I do not know who built the fence. I know Mr. Sumner had the privilege of going into the houses of Kamehameha 1st and 2nd, foreigners generally did not but those who were friends of Kalaimoku. I know nothing about the Well. I remember Mr. Sumner making a gateway for the Commodore Wilkes. I know Mr. Sumner was engaged in the service of Kamehameha, Kaahumanu, Kalaimoku, Boki and all the chiefs.

Paki sworn. When we arrived from Hawaii about 1821 Mr. Sumner was then living in the same place he does now, his place was surrounded with a fence. I cannot tell precisely where the boundaries were. I know Kapalao lived on the seaside from Mr. Sumner. Mr. Sumner next to him Hookio next, Kauehua next, who I think was about where Mr. Andrew's now is, and Hookio was about where the new Stone house is. All these different places were separated from each other by fences. I am not certain that they were all living in those places when I came from Hawaii, but if not it was shortly after. These divisions were as early as the time that Kalaimoku built his large fence. I suppose that Hookio built his fence, but I know that Kaauahua built his. I never heard at that time, nor since, that Mr. Sumner had any rights in that Yard.

Hookio was a lawyer of Rihoriho's, and afterwards of Keauluohi's, though he subsequently Kalaimoku was one that had charge of that class of men. The reason of Kauwila living there was that she was the Wife of Hookio. I do not know who built their house, it was before I became acquainted. I cannot say whether there was a fence before the path was made between Mr. Sumner's and Hookio's house. I never heard about Kalaimoku's applying to Mr. Sumner to open a path.

Kauaina, sworn, deposed. I know Mr. Sumner when Kamehameha I was living. He was then sailing under Kamehameha's orders. I have no recollection of his place of residence, till after the death of Keakaoulani (1823), at that time he was living where he now is, his yard was at that time as it now is. There was at that time a small house standing on the opposite side of the little lane which I supposed belonged to Hookio. I do not know the rest of the ground on that side appeared to be common. Afterwards Hookio and Kukahiko his brother-in-law fenced it in. I went there often in company with Kalaimoku. I was related to some of them. I never heard Mr. Sumner furnished any of the property for building the fence. I supposed they did it themselves. I heard them say this thing is mine, and that thing is mine, referring to Kalaimoku. I never heard Mr. Sumner had any rights to the place, it was a Common standing back to General Millers. The time I speak of was along Kalaimoku's large fence was built which was after 1823. When Kalaimoku and Hookio and I looked around preparatory to building Kalaimoku's fence, and arrived at the course of Mr. Sumner's Yard. Hookio said to Kalaimoku I will take this place, so as to be near to Punarua (Mr. Sumner) his brother-in-law, which is the first time I heard of any relationship. Hookio's Yard extended from the little lane nearly to the Yard now occupied by Mr. Andrews. I heard nothing of Mr. Sumner having any rights there. Hookio lived there till his death, but I do not recollect precisely when he died, perhaps before 1832. I think he died before Boki. I know it was before 1832. I heard from Kauwila that Hookio willed all his property to Kekauonohi. They lived with Kalaimoku and this woman. I heard Kalaimoku give the land to Hookio. I know the house I which Hookio lived. I do not know who built it, nor who finally pulled it down. I think it was rebuilt and then pulled down, I do not know by whose orders. I know Kauwila did not go away till long after the death of Hookio. I heard from the mouth of Kauwila that her Chief had driven her away, and she wished to come and live with me and I consented. I do not know where the house was taken when it was pulled down. She came to live with me, and sometimes with Kekauonohi, whose women she properly is. I saw Hookio and Kukahiko build the fence. I do not know but Mr. Sumner may have found the timber. The two Yards were not in one. Mr. Sumner's place was fenced in, but in that time the other was a common. Kauwila lived there before it was fenced in. I saw no evidence of any old fence, it appeared to be a common at the time. I went round with Kaiaimoku to look for a place for a yard. I never heard that Kalaimoku requested Mr. Sumner to make the pathway.

[SUMNER'S STATEMENT]

Document connected with the preceding claim presented to the Commission by Mr. Lea on the 22nd January 1847

Gentlemen Honolulu Nov. 30, 1846

In order to show how I came in possession of the lands which I have submitted to your Honorable Board for confirmation and approval, I beg to lay before you the following faithful statement of my Services to this Government, and I trust that such statement will convince your Honorable Board, that I have not laid claim to more land than to which I am rightly and justly entitled, at the same time I beg to remark that I feel perfectly satisfied that Your Honorable Board will secure me in the right possession of my past Property, and will not see me, in my old age, unlawfully deprived of the fruits of the labour of my younger years, the greater portion of which-in face I may say the whole of which-I devoted to, and that faithfully, to the interest and welfare of the Kings, Chiefs, and Government of these Islands.

I arrived at these Islands in 1807. In the Year 1813 I commanded a small schooner belonging to Kalaimoku which sailed between these Islands.

In the Year 1816 I commanded a Ship called the Albitross, and made a great number of voyages from Island to Island.

In 1817 I was Chief Mate of the Brig Forester, bound for China, Mr. Adams was Commander. Before proceeding on the voyage, we were ordered by Kamehameha I to proceed to Atooi, and to haul down the Russian Colors, which were then flying there, and to haul those of Kamehameha I in their place, this was accordingly done. We sailed for China on 12 of March, and returned on 16 October following. From this date to the year 1821 I was constantly employed in commanding the Government vessels, from one Island to the other. In July of this year I took charge of the Brig Thaddeus and sailed for Kamschatka with a load of Salt, returned on the 27 Oct following. Had not Providence protected us during this voyage, the whole of us must have perished, in consequence of the Severe Weather experienced and the unworthy state of the Brig.

From 1821 to 1824 I was again constantly employed in commanding Government Vessels from one Island to the other.

On the 2 March of the latter year, by order of Mr. Pitt, sanctioned by the King, I took charge of the Brig Ainoa and proceeded on a sealing voyage. After much labor, danger and great privations being supplied at all, I returned on 14 October of same year with 5845 fur skins, a quantity of Elephant oil, besides a great quantity of fish. Had I been supplied with even a moderate share of the necessities of life, I might have got a much better cargo.

In 1826 I took charge of the Brig Tamoralani, bound on another sealing voyage. After much difficulty and privations, being similarly situated with respect to Provisions, as on my first voyage, I procured 3160 Fur Seal skins. The crew now began to show signs of dissatisfaction, and at last I was obliged by their continual complaints of hunger, to put in at Port Dago, California, and buy some corn. The only thing we could purchase. As I was about to sail, the Spaniards, thinking probably they had some one in their power from whom they might glean a little harvest, without any notice fired upon us, not because we violated any of their laws but because they wanted a part of my skins. I told them they should not take any, for I was not afraid of them, although we were small in number to them. They then informed me that they would not acknowledge my Colors, and if I attempted to sail, they would blow us out of the water. I then went on shore to the Governor, but was very glad to get on board again. Thinking it probable they might endeavour to sink the Brig, I was not sorry to see her run on shore, and when they sent word of staying, which I complied with their commands they would sink her. I returned for answer, they could not do that, as she was already sunk as deep as she could go. Finding they could make nothing of me, they allowed me to depart, and I arrived at Oahu 24 Jan. 1827.

From this time to 1829 I was again employed in commanding the government Vessels about the Islands.

On 24 May 1829 Governor Boki gave me charge of the Brig Neo bound for Tahiti, for the purpose of endeavouring to recover a cargo of goods sent to that place by a chief named Kamonohu which cargo, at that time, was supposed to be lost. I accordingly proceeded on the voyage, and on my arrival in Tahiti, I found the cargo above alluded to had been sold, and that the proceeds were likely seen to be squandered away by Kamonohu. I remonstrated with him, and was enabled, after much persuasion and exertion to buy a full cargo of cocoa nut oil, a quantity of woods for furniture and with the money which he then had, but which very shortly would have been expended by him in drunkinnis[?] profligacy. This oil I had to bring to Oahu in bamboos, having neither Cooper nor Cask on Board. I arrived here 23 Sept 1829.

From this time to 1831 I was again employed commanding vessels sailing from Island to Island.

ON 25 December 1831, I took charge of Brig Waverly by order of Kamanu, I sailed for California, the particular of which Your Honorable Board I have no doubt is well acquainted with. I returned again in May of 1832.

For these Services, the Lands I have submitted for approval to Your Honorable Board were given to me. I received no wages while thus employed, and I hope Your Honorable Board will do me the justice ot say that any exertions have been fairly remunerated.

I will now refer to the Lands. In August or Sept 1819 I first went on the Land on the Plains and built my house. Boki was Governor at the time. He sent one of his Chiefs called Kaiaona to build a large house for me. Residents at that time could not build where they liked, without fear of molestation. When I built my houses above alluded to there was not a single house near the spot, with the exception of Mr. G. Beckley, nor any other Persons for three or four years. About this time King Kamehameha II and the Chiefs came from Maui. At the request of Boki I went in the Brig Thaddeus and brought down their people. The King and Chiefs frequently used to call to see me on the Premises which I at present occupy. One day, I do not exactly recollect the time, Mr. Pitt called upon me, and after some conversation fell asleep in the house which I have recently pulled down. When he awaked he said to me, William, I want You to pull in Your Fence about 8 to 10 fathoms. The fence alluded to was the one between my present house and the Palace, then leading from the residence of Dr. Judd to that of his honor Judge Andrews. I consented to this and when done, he said to me, William, this is my yard, and that is Yours, alluding to the land upon which my present house is built, and the piece of ground now in dispute. He then said to me, build a fence across in a straight line to the pathway above the Well, alluding to the road which at present runs down to the Sea. Okeo and myself dug the Well. There were no mud walls in those days. As soon as I found water in the Well, people began to come and build on the plains. My fence formerly commenced in Dr. Judd's Yard, but at the request of Kinau I drew it in. I do not remember how many fathoms. When I pulled it in, I carried it across the roadway running to the Sea. I carried it as far as Kittera's house, which is at present situated in the Yard in which is a large Tamarind tree. When they began making the Roads, Governor Kekuanaoa applied to me for permission to pull in my fences, which I agreed to. Mr. Pitt sent for me one day, (I cannot remember when it was) when he said to me-William, I want you to go with me to Pearl River to bring up sticks for our fences, and as the Vessel I am going in is a square rigged one, I wish you to take command of her. I accordingly did so, took her into Pearl River and brought her safely out again. Shortly after Mr. Pitt applied to me for a pathway through my Enclosure toward his house. This pathway is the one which at present leads to the Young Chiefs School. He said he wished to make the Pathway to oblige Lord Byron and his Doctor. I consented to this also.

I fenced in the whole of the Land belonging to me. My Fence commenced somewhere in the Yard at present occupied by Dr. Judd, and ran up nearly to the residence of Judge Andrews. I then ran the fence across the Land to the road now leading to the Sea. As from thence to the one in Dr. Judd's Yard. My present Yard, the one belonging to me, and the piece in dispute, were at that time all in one. They were given to my by Mr. Pitt by His Majesty's orders for my services for 30 Years to Government.

I built the house on the Land in dispute for my former Wife. I have her in charge of the Land, which she does not deny. I believe she lived there about 16 Years. When her husband died Keleaunohi (Keliuahanui) came several times requested her to pull down her house. She said to him, Why do you want to pull down the house? William sent me here to take care of the Land, as it belongs to him. At last he got very angry, and he made her pull it down, and she had to get her friends to assist her. I was away at the time this took place, but shortly after returned, when I found the materials of the house lying in my Yard and my former Wife crying over them. I immediately applied to Kinau to state to her facts and to protest against them. On my arrival at Kinau's residence I met with Kekuanaoa and I told him the cause of my visit, and the purport of my complaint. He said to me Kinau is now very sick, and you cannot well see her, but I will tell her what you have told me. I think this took place in 1826.

When the Chief Kinaua commenced building the Stone house now erected on the Land, I went to him. I told him he must not build there, as it was my land. He said to me Well, William, I Know it is Your Land, and when I got the House finished, you can buy it of me. He did very little to it after that and death shortly after put an end to his existence. The house then remained in that unfinished state for some considerable time, and when it was begun again Keliuahanui was told that I was wrong to touch that house, as the land belonged to Mr. Sumer, and the probability was there would be a row about it.

I hope your Honorable Board will take these circumstances into consideration.

Signed L.L. William Sumners

P.S. I submitted mentioned that I received $100 for the Voyage in the Brig Neo $25 a month for the Voyage in the Waverly and $100 as a present for the Voyage in the Brig Thaddeus, this last was a gift from his present Majesty. This is all the money I ever received for my 30 years service.
